MIDD OPENS HOME SEASON WITH WIN

St. Lawrence Eleven Defeated In Stubbornly Contested Game

"Keck" Parker Scores Lone Touchdown; Keppler Stars on Defense

Playing the first home game of the season, the Blue and White warriors sent the strong St. Lawrence aggregation down to defeat Saturday in a stubbornly contested game in which "Keck" Parker tallied the only touchdown and then kicked the goal from touchdown for Midd's seven points. Parker's score came in the third period when the Midd backs took the ball across by straight football aided by a beautiful boot by Parker. The teams seemed evenly matched as for weight and during the greater part of the game the tide swung back and forth with neither side having a distinct advantage.

Parker kicked off to Sheards who ran the ball back 15 yards before he was tackled. Reynolds made three yards through tackle but here the Blue line held and Sheards punted. Drost shot through left tackle for three yards and Parker then circled right end for about 15 more. Middlebury fumbled on the next play, and a St. Lawrence man recovered. A few line plunges netted little gain but Sheards went around left end for about 20 yeards before he was brought down by Ross. Midd then held for downs and Parker punted out of danger. The period closed with the ball in St. Lawrence's possession on their own 42-yard line.

The Canton backs found the Midd line impregnable with the opening of the second period and Sheards was forced to punt to Ross who ran the ball back to Midd's 30-yard line. Line plunges by Parker and Drost carried the ball to Midd's 42-yard line but St. Lawrence held and Parker dropped back to punt. Kalin's bad pass went over Parker's head and rolled to Midd's 20-yard line before "Keck" recovered it. On the next play, however, "Tony" Goode broke through and tackled Sheard so hard that the latter fumbled and Goode recovered. Parker went through tackle for five yards and Drost made it first down with five more through the same place. Keppler relieved Parker. Ross made three through center and then Leonard made four more through guard. Keppler made it first down on Midd's 44-yard line. At this point the St. Lawrence line stiffened and they held for downs on their own 48-yard line. St. Lawrence then uncorked their aerial attack which netted them long gains but penalties prevented them from threatening Midd's goal and the half ended with the ball in St. Lawrence's possession on Midd's 55-yard line.

The second half opened with Sheard's kicking to Drost who ran the ball back to Midd's 35-yard line. Midd was unable to gain through the line and then Parker got off his longest punt which sailed out of bounds on St. Lawrence's 15-yard line. Sheard went through for two yards. Osgood followed with four through guard and Reynal added two more through center but on the last down a forward pass grounded and it was Midd's ball on her opponents 25-yard line. Ross made a yard through guard. Gollnick made six more and Parker made it first down by skirting right end for about four yards. Drost continued the march by going through

DISCUSSION CLUB ORGANIZED IN TWO VERY ENTHUSIASTIC MEETINGS

About 75 Men Discuss "College Advertising" Thursday Night

Faculty and Students Bring Out Many Different Points of View

About ninety men including nineteen members of the faculty, met Thursday night in the Old Chapel room to inaugurate a Discussion Club for Middlebury College.

The meeting was a decided success in every way. For over two hours the men discussed the subject "College Advertising" and at no time did the discussion lag. Showing a breadth of information on the subject and considerable enthusiasm the participants gave their individual views and made the meeting a great source of benefit to all who attended. Although many suggestions were brought forward, no action was taken that evening, the Club acting as a deliberative rather than a legislative body.

With Thomas '20 acting as temporary chairman, discussion was opened by Davis '21 who suggested that Kaleidoscopes be sent to the principal high schools of the east. Davis was followed by others who recommended the issuing of bulletins instead of the year books, claiming that the cheapness of the bulletins would enable the authorities to distribute them among individuals. Still others advocated the method being practiced by many New England Colleges of late years, that of sending a delegation of prominent undergraduates with a faculty member to talk up the college to sub-freshmen, while Professor Cady was of the opinion that the best plan was for individual students to "rush" sub-freshmen for the College with the same spirit that they "rushed" them for fraternities.

Discussion then centered on athletics

Definite Organization Drawn Up Last Night

Only Officers to Be Committee of 7 and Secretary

The Discusison Club was definitely organized at its second meeting, which was held last night in the Old Chapel room

The meeting was called to order by Thomas '20 and Sincerbox '20 was elected temporary chairman, and Houghton '20 temporary secretary. Professor Davison gave the report of the Organization Committee, elected at the last meeting.

After a short discussion it was unanimously voted that the purpose of the Club was to "clarify opinions of the student body on live topics of the day", and to act in an administrative rather than in a legislative capacity.

It was moved and carried that a committee be elected which would comprise the members of the standing Organization Committee and two other men who would be elected at each meeting for one week, one of whom would act as chairman of the succeeding meeting, this committee directing the administrative policy of the Club subject to the approval of the entire body.

The time of meeting, it was voted, should be at seven o'clock on Tuesday evenings alternate with the Tuesdays on which the Undergraduate Association met, the place of meeting to be the Old Chapel room.

Election of the two men who would serve on the Committee for the next week resulted in the selection of Moreau and Ross, the former being chosen as temporary chairman of the meeting. The topic for the Tuesday meeting will be "How Can College Spirit Best Be Developed?"

NO R. O. T. C. FOR MIDD THIS YEAR

Course in "Military Science and Tactics" To Be Given, However Professor McFarland Will Have Charge Of Work

That the Middlebury R. O. T. C. will not be re-established here as such was practically made certain in a statement made public by Pres. John M. Thomas last Friday in Chapel. The War Department he said had not seen fit to re-establish the training unit here, in spite of the increased enrollment, on the grounds that the surplus of men over the minimum quota of 100 was too small. The course in "Military Science and Tactics", however, in which nearly 125 men were enrolled will be offered by the college, acting independently.

This decision was reached by the college authorities immediately upon receipt of the communication from Washington, prompted by their desire to do justice to men depending upon the course for its three baccalaureate credits. The class had its first regular meeting Monday morning when the plans for the work during the remainder of the semester were outlined by Pro-

FROSH WINNERS OF ANNUAL HAT SCRAP

Underclassmen Get 7 Hands On Hat While Sophs Get 5

Class of '23 Now Has One Point Lead Over Class of '22

The freshmen and sophomores are certainly doing things these days. After their performance of two weeks ago and then again last Saturday, people are beginning to speculate as to what their next move will be. Some wonder if, at the rate they have being going, either class will care to make any more moves.

Saturday afternoon immediately preceding the Middlebury-St. Lawrence game the annual hat scrap between the two classes was staged on Porter Field. The freshmen won by dint of having seven hands on the coveted felt at the end of the three-minute straffing period as compared to the five totaled by their aggressors. This gives the victors a total of 1½ points, a margin of one more than the sophomores, and accordingly some of the more confident ones are tearing the buttons from their caps in anticipation of an early discarding of this ornament in its entirety.

BLUE ELEVEN READY FOR NORWICH TEAM

Coach Brown and Charges Feel Confident of Victory Saturday

Annual Freshman P-rade with Unique Features, to Precede Contest

Midd's biggest home football game of the season is scheduled for Saturday when our ancient rivals from Northfield once more will come to Porter Field to tackle the Blue and White.

In anticipation of a hard game the men are going through their paces with the vim and vigor that forecasts a sterling Midd eleven when the horn starting off the teams is blown. Coaches Brown and Fisher have been working the men hard and the few faults which were evident in the St. Lawrence contest are being overcome. The over head game which proved Midd's weakest point is being given a good overhauling and it is certain that the open game exhibited Saturday will be a vast improvement.

George Keppler, whose work on the line was a revelation, is certain to start at one of the guard positions. The husky Swede is a pillar of strength on the defense. "Rocky" Dake has returned to the squad after an absence of three weeks and he is slated to start at center Saturday. Just who will start at the other guard is a bit uncertain, but Brackett seems to have the edge just now. Cabot, however, is showing up well and is certain to get in for part of the game. Eddie Kalin may also be used at guard. The tackle positions will be held down by Jack Meade and Barney Potratz. That pair did excellent work against St. Lawrence and they are practically fixtures on the line. The wing positions are not bothering Coach Brown much for in "Tony" Goode and "Buster" Brown he has a pair of the fleetest and best ends in the state.

The backfield is the biggest problem. "Keck" Parker seems to be the logical choice for quarterback and the veteran probably will start there. "Pepper" Ross is sure to start at one of the half-back positions and his running mate at the other half will be either McDonald or Drost, while the full-back position is being fought out between Gollnick and Leonard. McDonald is one of the fastest men on the squad, a sure and hard tackler and an able man carrying the ball and he should be heard from next season. He is ineligible for out of town games but it is highly probable that he will get in against Norwich Saturday.

Despite the fact that Norwich has yet to break into the win column, Coach Brown is not underestimating their strength, and expects a hard tussle. He is confident, however, that his men will be able to more than hold their own against the Maroon team and his confidence is shared wholeheartedly by every member of the team.

Preceding the game the annual Freshman "P-rade" will be held. The line of march will be through the principal streets of the town and up to Porter Field. This year's "P-rade" gives promise of being unique in many respects and it should be worth watching.

Green Mt. Club Workers Active

The members of the Green Mountain Club who are cutting the Long Trail through to Brandon spent the week-end up in the mountains. During this time they completed a little over two and a half miles of the trail.

Why Not Occasional "Get Togethers?"

At the meeting of the Discussion Club last Thursday night it was brought out that Midd alumni seldom visit the college after graduation. Logical reasons were given, but the real reason, we feel, is that there is nothing concrete to bring the old grads back—they hesitate to neglect their business affairs for an occasional visit unless there is something occurring which will bring some of their old friends back too.

Many of the colleges are solving this problem by holding occasional "get togethers". These colleges make out a definite program for some week-end. If the "get together" is to be in the fall, they will schedule all the fraternity initiation banquets for Friday night, let us say. The following morning, Saturday, meetings of the athletic council, alumni council and similar organizations are held. On Saturday afternoon there is staged a big football game on the home field with the team of some old rival institution and in the evening comes the big rally and get together in the gym.

Colleges which have tried these "get togethers" have found them very successful, and, so far as we can see, there is no reason why Middlebury couldn't hold them successfully too. It is certain that we ought to try some method like this whereby the alumni could get back once in a while and see what a wide-a-wake and "peppy" college Midd is when in action, for the aske of all, students, grads and the college.

Wanted—Your Support!

Did you notice that basketball schedule? Looks pretty good, doesn't it? But it is no different from most other good things in that it must be paid for. The Athletic Council has estimated that six hundred dollars will have to be raised in some way if the prospective season is to be carried to completion without serious financial difficulties. Last week the Undergraduate Association faced the question and decided that the situation could best be met by a sale of season tickets among the college students. The plan is being launched on the supposition that every Midd man and woman is going to get behind this effort. Next week you are going to have the opportunity to show whether or not you care enough about that team to support it with a two-dollar bill. The team ought to be a winner. If you want to see it win, then come across!

What Others Think

Open To All

What Can You Do?

Dear Editor:

Many students have been puzzled at the failure of our graduates to obtain satisfactory employment. What could be the exact reason? One suggestion as to the probable cause is that the undergraduate has not taken sufficient interest in just what he intends to do after graduation. He leaves the campus full of ambition, but with no definite goal. He probably falls into the first position offered without any thought as to the advisability of the move or with any regard for his future. Then after a few years of costly experience he has seen his mistakes and then starts over again, this time out for the best there is. As college men wouldn't it be more fitting to give the matter due consideration while here, and then when you graduate, be able to leave the college halls knowing just where to go and into that branch of industry or commerce that appeals to you most? Is there any time lost thru this arrangement? Are not the chances for better employment certain?

A suggestion is that the faculty and college heads aid their alumni and undergraduates, as other colleges are doing, by establishing an industrial bureau, the purpose of which would be to get information from the big concerns in regard to the advantages, opportunities and requirements for employment of men of college standing.

Another move along this line of work, in which a number of students are interested and which in the writer's opinion ought to be considered by the faculty very carefully, is the plan of introducing a course in Typewriting and Stenography, primarily for those desiring to enter the business field. Although the employers do not make this a requirement, they recommend it very highly to a young man desiring to enter the business field. Now is the time that these two very important questions should be considered both by faculty and student. "If you want a thing hard enough and long enough, you will be sure to get it", President Thomas once remarked.

A Better Coaching Staff

Dear Editor:

The numerous athletic activities have made it absolutely necessary that Coach Brown shall have an assistant. Owing to the conflict between the football and basket-ball seasons he is at present swamped with a vast amount of work. We need an assistant for Coach Brown, and we need one immediately, and urgently. Why not have a man whom the students would like, and one who knows his work. Such a man is "Simmie" Murch who has been Director of Army and Navy athletics at various cantonments in the East since he left Midd.

The writer has been informed that "Simmie" is soon leaving the service. Why can't we take advantage of the fact by obtaining his services for Midd once again? His comprehensive activities during the last few years would make him a particularly valuable asset to the coaching staff. Why not start the ball rolling toward having "Simmie" Murch back here again? We are uncertain whether or not he would return, but I am certain that if the right inducements were offered he would seriously consider them. Think it over and let's do something in regard to this matter.

I AM FOR ACTION.

On Reading the Campus of Oct. 15th Poor "Straggler"!

How hard it is to interest some people sometimes, yet how little it takes at other times! "The Straggler" heard many speakers in France, "but ninety per cent were the same." How sad for the "Y" who got the speakers! Oh, no; how sad for this poor creature who heard them.

This old "grad" has heard the great and grand men of the day, and, also some of the little 2x4 men, yet he has yet to hear two alike, and the first one, great or small, from whom he cannot learn something, and by whom he cannot be helped.

We wonder how many "next nights" the "Straggler" gracefully (?) left the "Y" hut; just how broad an experience has he to speak from?

Of course, John K. Bangs is entertaining; we do not doubt that. His clever little witticisms of the Genial Philosopher replying to the Cynical Sciolist, which appeared in the Independent not long ago, were very amusing and witty.

But how harsh these conclusions regarding ninety per cent of the speakers! These men are worthless because they are not humorous, have not slippery tongues, do not amuse.

We know of some spoiled youngsters and a few frivolous young ladies who have to be amused all the time, but who in the service—, unless it be a "buck" private in a development battalion,—we cannot guess.

It hardly seems possible that his army intelligence rating would be high enough to allow him to go overseas; even stranger does it seem that he had burned up enough phosphorus in his brain to pass college entrance examinations.

We sincerely hope that he does not consider his professors worthless if they cannot amuse him. May he be privileged to discover before his college course is over that, in listening to speakers, as well as in everything else, one gets usually what one is looking for.

Quit your idle roaming, friend Straggler; get on a hunt for something worth while.

"An Old Grad."

A Letter of Explanation

Middlebury College,
Middlebury, Vermont.
October 25, 1919.

Editor of The Middlebury Campus,
Dear Sir:

"Will you allow me to rectify a statement that I read in the article 'College receives Gift of $1000,' in your last issue? I notice: 'The donor is A. Barton Hepburn '71, who has become interested in the French Department as reorganized by Professor de Visme.'

"I have not reorganized the French Department, nor am I the Head of it. Professor Duane Robinson is the Head of the French Department of Middlebury College, as he has been in the past.

"I am officially Head of the Division of Modern Languages and Dean of the French School of Middlebury College.

"It is also a great pleasure for me to state that if I have found students here ready to take up advanced work with me, they owe it to the painstaking, consciencious and efficient teaching of Professor Robinson.

"Thanking you for your courtesy, Mr. Editor, in granting me this space, I am,

Yours very sincerely,
Henri Pierre Williamson de Visme."

Kaleidoscope Back on Pre-War Basis

According to editor-in-chief Bigelow the close of the war has affected Midd, in that we will now have a real, bang-up Kaleidoscope, fully as good, and undoubtedly better than the book Midd used to publish!

Those who can recall a bit of ancient history will remember when the Kaleidoscope was twice the size it has been recently and when it took on a real snappy College air. Owing to a smaller student body and the necessary curtailments of material and effort due to the war, the "Kaleid" was put in smaller form though equally as alive as in its larger size. To use Mr. Bigelow's words, "It's going to be a real one."

So far two meetings of the Board have been held and at these there was shown great interest and enthusiasm on the part of the entire staff. Plans and ideas were forthcoming in fine manner—but—the best laid plans will fail to make the Kaleidoscope what you want it to be unless you get behind it and push! To get back to the real, old, Midd type of book it will be necessary that the entire Student Body stand ready to help and to boost their representative publication. The Kaleidoscope, similar to like publications in other colleges goes further than Middlebury. It finds its place in many states, cities, and colleges. We want our book to be a sample of what Midd men and women can do and to bespeak of Middlebury's best wherever seen.

In the near future a Mail Box will be placed in Old Chapel in which all material for the "Kaleid" can be dropped. Here is your opportunity! Snap shots, page headings, drawings and cartoons will soon be called for by Miss Wiley the Art Editor. Look over those old collections of snaps and donate the best of them for use in the "Gallery." Can you draw? Whittle down the old stub and send in some pencil sketches for use as title pages.

Real jokes and live wire writing will also be needed. Keep your ears open for good live class room jokes and puns. Think up some original material for a new joke department—in fact fall in line and give your share towards making this year's book the best ever.

Sport Wrinkles
By Burgins

Two more upsets in the gridiron world startled the dopesters Saturday and further complicated the race for honors among the pigskin chasers. Syracuse tasted its first defeat of the season at the hands of W. & J. and the West Point Cadets sent dope reeling by humbling the proud conquerors of the Yale Bull Dog. It is seldom that a West Point team is not a favorite in its October games, but the Army hardly expected a victory over Cavanaugh's men.

Erickson the W. & J. halfback gave a great exhibition of broken field running, when he ran back two punts in the last period of the Syracuse game for touchdowns. The runs came within five minutes of each other, the first for 55 yards and the second for 50.

Midd's display Saturday brought forth evidences of a powerful team and the showing as a whole was entirely favorable.

Parker got off some pretty punts, one of which was almost directly responsible for our lone score. The boot was easily one of the longest ever witnessed on the local gridiron and sailed far over the quarterback's head.

George Keppler played a fine game on the line and demonstrated once more that he is one of the greatest defensive players that ever wore a Blue Jersey.

"Bunny" Cabot deserves a lot of credit for his excellent work at guard. "Bunny" far more than held his own against a man who must have outweighed him by at least 35 pounds. The diminutive star is a staunch supporter of Bob Fitzimmon's creed. "The bigger they are, the harder they fall."

Vermont encountered the heavy M. A. C. team Saturday and was defeated by a score of 25 to 0. The Green and Gold will have to play a lot better than they did Saturday to make Midd worry.

Coach Brown will present an exceptionally strong line Saturday. With the return of "Rocky" Dake and "Red" Breen to the squad and with Keppler almost certain to start the game, the line will be one of the strongest that has ever represented the Blue and White. Either Breen, Brackett, Kalin or Cabot will start at the other guard, but whoever starts the center of the line will give the Norwich backs all the opposition they want.

Basket-ball prospects surely are rosy. With about a dozen veterans and a number of prep school stars already out, Capt. Miske's aggregation gives promise of being the fastest thing in the basket-ball line that has ever graced the local court.

Tennis is likely to be adopted ere long as a major sport in the leading colleges and universities in the country and the acknowledgement by the colleges of the right of tennis to be a sport on a par with football and baseball will remove the last taint of anything effeminate from the game.

"Pepper" Ross played a slashing game at halfback Saturday and it usually took more than one man to bring him to earth every time he was entrusted with that ball.

"Pick" Fisher has been out every day for the past week helping Coach Brown whip the blue-hosed men into shape and his efforts are rapidly showing results.

Norwich continues to come out on the short end of her contests. Brown is the latest to set back the Maroon and the Providence boys according to reports, used only second string men throughout. It looks to us as if the much vaunted "crack" Norwich team will be the "cracked" Norwich team after Saturday's game here.

BASKET BALL

First Practice Held; Manager Grant Announces Schedule

The first basket-ball practice of the season was held Monday evening, about 30 men responding to Capt. Miske's call. Prominent among the veterans who reported were Miske, Heath, Christian, Hulihan, Tatro, Davis, Towers, Ginsburg and E. Ross.

About half a dozen men were kept away from practice because of being on the football squad. Those men will not report until the close of the football season. The squad at that time will probably be augmented then by the addition of Parker, Goode, Reinbrecht, Dake and "Chuck" Leonard who was a star forward at T. C. A. last year.

The men went through a snappy drill which consisted for the most part of passing and which wound up in a few laps around the gym. The men showed lots of "pep" and the form displayed indicates a merry fight for the positions on the 'Varsity this year.

Yesterday manager Grant gave out for publication the basket-ball schedule for the ensuing season. As arranged now the season will probably consist of 16 games, but due to the fact that Vermont and Norwich have as yet not elected managers, their coaches have asked to hold dates given below open since both institutions are sure to have 'Varsity basket-ball. The dates therefore are held as tentative but will doubtless be the ones accepted. Schedule follows:

Dec. 6—N. Y. State College at Albany.
Dec. 13.—R. P. I. at Troy.
Dec. 18—Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield.
Dec. 19—Trinity College at Hartford.
Dec. 20—Conn. Agricultural College at Storrs.
Jan. 9—St. Lawrence at Middlebury.
Jan. 14—Dartmouth at Hanover.
Jan. 17—R. I. State College at Middlebury.
Jan. 24—Mass. Aggies at Middlebury
Jan. 28—Feb. 7—Mid Year Exams
Feb. 7—Vermont at Burlington. (tentative)
Feb. 14—Norwich at Middlebury.
Feb. 21—Fordham at New York.
Feb. 28—Vermont at Middlebury. (tentative)
Mar. 6—McGill University at Montreal. (tentative)
Mar. 13—Norwich at Northfield. (tentative)
Mar. 20—R. P. I. at Middlebury.

The Sunday Noon Club held a short business meeting last Sunday preliminary to their regular session. The Executive Committee made the following recommendations: that the position of secretary-treasurer should be held by a man, Charles Reinbrecht '22, and that the offices of vice-president, asst. secretary-treasurer, and social director should be created, to be held by Pauline Locklin '20, Anne Littlefield '22 and Edith Tallmadge '21 respectively. The recommendations of the Committee were unanimously accepted by the Club.

Junior week will be held from May 13 to May 15, inclusive. This brings the event on the third week end in May, instead of the first week end, as been the custom in the past. The change was made in response to a petition of the senior class.

Easter recess will commence March 27 and will extend to April 5 inclusive. This period includes Easter Sunday.

A Correction

The Campus owes an apology to two of the sororities, Alpha Zeta of Alpha Chi and Alpha Iota of Delta Delta Delta for mistakes made in the Pledge Day announcements. Of the pledges announced by Alpha Chi, the name of Muriel Barker belongs with the class of 1923. The name of Mary Button, '23, was omitted from the list of women pledged by Delta Delta Delta.

HENDRY-BUCK

Classmates at College in 1915 are Married in Delaware

Saturday evening, October 18, Guy C. Hendry '15 of Mount Holly, N. J., and Miss Mary H. Buck '15 of Wilmington, Del., were united in marriage at the People's Settlement House of that city, Rev. Charles Lucius Candle, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, officiating. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock, in the presence of about 20 friends, and was immediately followed by a dinner to the guests. The bride was attired in a traveling costume of brown and wore a pearl pendant, the gift of the groom. The gift to the groom from his bride was a fine watch chain. The newly-wedded pair left in the early evening for a short stay in Philadelphia, thence to Delaware Water Gap, Pa., for a week, returning to Mount Holly, where they will reside. Miss Ruth Buck of Waterbury, Conn., a sister of the bride, was present at the wedding.

Mr. Hendry was the acting pastor of the Congregational church of New Haven for three years, thence going into Y. M. C. A. work. He is now entering upon the third year of work as secretary of Burlington County Young Men's Christian Association of New Jersey. Mrs. Hendry has been a successful teacher and has been engaged in settlement work in Wilmington for the past half year.

President Thomas Speaks Twice

President Thomas was one of the speakers at Montpelier last Thursday on the occasion of the presentation to the State of the colors and shields of the various Vermont organizations which participated in the war. The colors of the First Vermont, Fifty-seventh Pioneers, Three Hundred and Second Field Artillery, One Hundred and First Ammunition Train, and the shields of the One Hundred and First, Second, and Third, Machine Gun Battalions, and the One Hundred and Third Infantry, were presented by officers representing the various organizations. The part taken by President Thomas was that of making remarks commemorating the twelve thousand other Vermont men who enlisted in every division of the Army.

The president delivered the sermon at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, Sunday.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Doris Pinney '22 entertained her sister Ruth over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kempton of Barre were in town Sunday to visit their daughter, Marion Tilden '22.

The parents of Barbara Browning '23, Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Browning of West Orange, N. J., were in Middlebury Sunday.

Daisy Kimball '22 had as week-end guests her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. P. I. Kimball, also Virgil and Clarence Bodine, all of Bellows Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Maxon, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells, of Berlin, N. Y., were the guests of Ethel Wells '20 and Catherine Maxon '23, Saturday and Sunday.

Breen '20 left Thursday for Toronto, Can., where he represented the local chapter at the Delta Upsilon Convention, held in that city October 24 and 25.

An Expression of Sympathy

The College takes this opportunity to extend its deepest sympathy to Rena Dumas and her mother in their recent bereavement.

The Women's Choral Club is now rehearsing every week under the direction of Mr. Bissell for the contest with the men's club in the spring. The work of the winter will be concentrated ur "The Captive Soul" by E. W. Wooley. This cantata is a tale of fairy land of which a synopsis will be published later.

MISS FROST WEDS HAROLD A. DAMON

Miss Dorothy Frost, formerly the assistant at Middlebury College Library and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Frost of 13 Elm street, was married Thursday evening to Harold A. Damon, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Damon of Nashua, N. H., who was a graduate of Middlebury College in 1917. The wedding was held at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Henry C. Newell, pastor of the Congregational church of Middlebury, officiating, and the double ring service being used.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridesmaid was Miss Esther Frost, a sister of the bride, and Roscoe E. Dake of Greenfield, N. Y., a Kappa Delta Rho fraternity brother of the groom, acted as best man.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Damon will reside at 11 Temple street, Nashua, N. H., where he is associated with his father in the real estate business. Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Caswell of Springfield, Miss Dixon and Miss Hazel Arkley of Essex Junction, Miss Elizabeth Bigwood of Winooski, John E. Vondell of Windsor and Miss Myrtle Frost and Alvin Barton of Ticonderoga, N. Y.

English-Morris

Adelaide Morris ex-'20 and Robert English '18 were married in Schenectady, N. Y., Friday, Oct. 17. The newly-married couple spent a few days in Middlebury last week, and then returned to Penn's Grove, N. J., where they will reside. The groom is in the employment of the Dupont Powder Co.

Foote-Pastene

A quiet wedding took place in Cornwall, Saturday, Oct. 25, when Sylvia Pastene '19 and Ralph Foote ex-'17 were united in marriage. The bride and groom have left on a short trip, after which they will take up their residence in Whiting.

Midd Holds Rally

Among the forces which contributed to Midd's victory over St. Lawrence the rally ought to be reckoned which was held in the gymnasium last Friday night.

The evening's program began with a selection by the orchestra, and then Darby led off with a number of "peppy" cheers and songs. Then Keppler took the floor and delivered a straight forward speech on college spirit, emphasizing the value of out-spoken honesty and frankness between college men as the key to a better understanding among the student body.

President Hulihan of the sophomore class spoke on the relations between freshmen and sophomores, and defended a system of moderate hazing.

His speech was followed by a strong appeal for upper-class guidance from Leonard, president of the freshman class, urging that the upper-classmen take advantage of the hero-worship of the freshmen, and lead them in the right direction.

Kasper, in his usual vigorous manner, asked for support for the football team, and Goode followed with an appeal for more men to come out for practice. He said that sometimes the team suffered because it did not have a full team to scrimmage against.

Captain Ross, also, asked for a two-fold support of the team, support from the cheering section when the team is on the field, and support from try-outs. He seconded what Goode had said concerning lack of material.

The rally closed with rousing cheers, a snake dance, and the singing of the Alma Mater.

The weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held in Pearsons social hall, Thursday evening. Edith Tallmadge '22 led, choosing as her topic "Service." In her talk she showed how we can serve by a friendly attitude toward others and by raising and upholding student standards in Middlebury.

The scrap was scheduled for 2:10 but a few prompt arrivals came near being disappointed. They would have been disappointed but for the prompt action of a few of the '22 contingent who sized up the situation when they saw that it was going to be late in starting and acted accordingly. They seized a few stalwart wearers of the pea green who were just finishing some work on the gridiron and without further ado escorted them to an out-house in the rear of the grandstand. Just as the line of nearly two hundred men, marching from the campus, neared the grandstand cries from that vicinity broke it up as quickly and as effectively as so much schrapnel. The scene of action was then transferred to the rear of the stand where a short prelude or what might be termed the hat scrap minus the hat ensued for several minutes only to be stopped by members of the Student Council and renewed, formally, a few minutes later on the gridiron proper.

tackle for six yards, Ross garnered two around left end and Gollnick added two more through center. Parker reeled off three more for another first down and on the next play carried the ball across. He kicked an easy goal. The play during the rest of the period was chiefly in St. Lawrence's territory, play ending with the ball in possession of St. Lawrence on their own 35-yard line.

The last period showed St. Lawrence at its best. Sheard several times skirted the ends for substantial gains and a number of forward passes accounted for long gains but untimely penalties and the fine work of the Midd defense at critical moments prevented them from resulting in a score. After about four minutes of playing Midd got the ball on St. Lawrence's 40-yard line and Parker missed a field goal from the 49-yard line. St. Lawrence then started a march down the field which was not stopped until they had reached Midd's 22-yard line where the Midd line held like a stone wall. The game ended with the ball in Midd's possession on her own 30-yard line.

All of the Blue-hosed battlers put up a stellar game but Keppler's work on the line, Ross's line plunges and Parker's kicking stood out. Sheard was the individual star of the St. Lawrence team and he performed brilliantly throughout.

FIRST MEETING OF DISCUSSION CLUB

as a medium of publicity. Many thought that the College should procure another coach and also set aside money which could be used for helping athletes through college. A number of others, however, saw the greatest means of obtaining publicity in inspiring the men already here or who come here voluntarily, without remunerative offers, with the love of College and then, these speakers seemed to think, we wouldn't have to worry about our athletic record at all.

Dean Wiley was among the last of the speakers. He said that a good many of the plans suggested had already been tried, including the personal contact method, the idea of having a man or group of men visit various preparatory schools, and the distribution of Kaleidoscopes and bulletins. He then asked for an expression of opinion as to which the students thought the most effective. It was thought, however, that no action ought to be taken at the meeting.

Towards the last of the evening a loose form of organization was drawn up for the Club. It was voted to elect a committee to get things under way and plan the future discussions. The elections were held with the result that Sincerbox was chosen to represent the senior class and to act as chairman Davis as the junior representative, Brautigam of the sophomore class and Adams, freshman.

fessor Bonney. The course will consist of three one hour-periods a week, one lecture under Prof. McFarland and two physical training periods, with subdivisions as follows:

Class A—Men on football squad and all others who elect to report Tuesday and Thursday afternoons for practice.

Class B—Men with no previous military experience who will be given one hour's drill on Monday and Friday at 10:30 with Houghton '20.

Class C—Men not included in either of two hour-periods in gymnasium, of other groups whose work will consist of two hour-periods in gymnasium. Monday and Friday at 10:30.

The lecture period, required of all who elect the course, will come on Wednesday morning at 10:30, under Prof. McFarland, commandant of the Middlebury College Battalion, V. V. M., during the college year, 1917-18 and who served as Personnel Officer in the S. A. T. C. here last fall with the rank of Lieutenant.
